

The Angels' Carol

From out of deep eternity,
A newborn child we came to see:
He lay all tender on the ground
And hallowed all the place around.
Lully, lullay; lully, lullay
And hallowed all the place around.

We heard as all the stars on high
Cascaded music from the sky,
And listened to his mother sing
A lullaby to Christ the king.
Lully, lullay; lully, lullay
A lullaby to Christ the king.

We waited with the shepherds there,
As hope and glory filled the air,
And saw them kneel with gentle grace
To gaze upon the Saviour's face.
Lully, lullay; lully, lullay
To gaze upon the Saviour's face.

We call you all to join our song
To Christ our Lord, sweet Mary's son,
Who now enthroned in heaven above
Presents - to all - his peace and love.
Lully, lullay; lully, lullay
Presents to all his peace and love.
